College-Wide Policy Against Sex Discrimination, Sexual Harassment, Sexual Assault and Other Forms of Sexual Violence, Dating Violence, Domestic Violence and Stalking

Washington & Jefferson College is committed to maintaining a learning, working and living environment free from all forms of sex discrimination, sexual harassment, sexual assault and other forms of sexual violence, dating violence, domestic violence and stalking. This form of misconduct is specifically prohibited by Washington & Jefferson, as is retaliation for having brought forward a concern or allegations under this policy. This policy applies to all members of the College community (all students, faculty and staff) as well as to individuals not directly affiliated with the College (e.g. contractors, vendors and visitors). This policy also applies to off-campus conduct which may affect the campus community or may affect any student’s access to or participation in the College’s educational programs and activities.

Violations of this policy can occur regardless of sexual orientation or gender identity. Although sexual harassment often involves a supervisory relationship or teacher/student relationship, all forms of misconduct covered by this policy can also be committed by a student against a faculty member, by an employee against a supervisor, by an employee against a peer employee, or by a student against another student.

Under federal, state and local laws (including without limitation Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972), the College has an affirmative duty to address the issue of sexual assault and the other forms of misconduct covered by this policy; to devise and adopt appropriate procedures for maintaining an atmosphere free of sexual coercion or intimidation; and to investigate claims of alleged violations of this Policy. This policy is intended to implement this mandate, and represents the College’s commitment to take prompt, effective steps to address sexual harassment, sexual assault and other forms of sexual violence by stopping the misconduct, preventing its recurrence, and addressing its effects.

All members of the College community are expected to take reasonable measures to prevent and discourage any sexual harassment from occurring. Prevention should, in particular, be a guiding concern for all involved in any proceedings under this policy. Any faculty member, student, staff employee, vendor or visitor found to have violated this policy will be subject to appropriate disciplinary and/or corrective action, which may include expulsion from school or termination of employment.

Reporting: Who You Should Contact

Members of the College community who are aware of conduct that violates this policy, whether they observe the conduct directly or otherwise learn about it, should report it to the Title IX Coordinator or one of the Deputy Title IX Coordinators listed below. Responsible employees (as defined below) are obligated by this policy to report such conduct to assure the matter is handled promptly and appropriately by trained personnel and that appropriate corrective, protective, and remedial actions may be taken as warranted, including interim measures.

Student Requests for Confidentiality:

A student reporting an incident of alleged sexual violence might ask that his/her name not be disclosed to the alleged perpetrator or that no investigation or disciplinary action be pursued to address the alleged sexual violence. In such cases, the Title IX Coordinator will inform the student that honoring the request may limit the College’s ability to respond fully to the incident, including pursuing disciplinary action against the alleged perpetrator, and will explain that this policy and the law include protections against retaliation. If the student still requests that his or her name not be disclosed to the alleged perpetrator or that the College not investigate or seek action against the alleged perpetrator, the Title IX Coordinator will determine whether or not the College can honor such a request while still providing a safe and nondiscriminatory environment for all students, including the student who reported the incident of alleged sexual violence.

Title IX Coordinators:

If you believe you are a victim of some form of sex discrimination, sexual harassment, sexual assault or other forms of sexual violence, domestic violence, dating violence or stalking, the College’s Title IX Coordinator and Deputy Coordinators are available to provide information to you about the processes under this policy for dealing with such concerns and complaints, and also to provide information about other resources that may be available to you. The Title IX Coordinator is also responsible for overseeing the processing of complaints of alleged violations of this policy, and for identifying and addressing patterns of alleged sex discrimination, sexual harassment/violence and systemic problems.

Retaliation is Strictly Prohibited
No person will be retaliated against in any way for initiating an inquiry or lodging a complaint in good faith regarding alleged violations of this policy. Any conduct constituting retaliation is a violation of this policy and is equally subject to disciplinary action under it. Any person subjected to conduct perceived as retaliation for initiating an inquiry or lodging a complaint in good faith regarding an alleged violation of this policy should promptly report all relevant information to the Title IX Coordinator or one of the Deputy Title IX Coordinators listed below. The College will take steps to prevent retaliation and will also take strong responsive action if the College finds that retaliation has occurred.

Options for Resolution
Individuals making reports of alleged violations of this policy will be informed about options for resolving potential violations. These options include informal dispute resolution, referral to other College offices or programs (where appropriate), formal investigation pursuant to this policy, and availability of resources outside the College process.

Complainants will be informed about the range of possible outcomes, including interim protections, remedies for the individual harmed by the alleged misconduct, and disciplinary actions that might be taken against the accused as a result of the report, including information about the procedures leading to such outcomes.

Interim remedial measures may include, but are not limited to: changes in housing assignments, changes in course scheduling, alternative employment conditions, no contact orders, and other measures specifically calculated to remediate any harassment. Interim measures will only occur with the consent of the alleged victim.

A “no contact order” may be issued by the vice president for student life, or their designee, in accordance with the code of student conduct if the accused is a student, or by the Title IX coordinator, or their designee, if the accused is an employee. No contact orders must be issued in writing, with notice to both parties, and in conjunction with a formal complaint. The Department of Campus & Public Safety will be notified of all issued no contact orders. Such orders are imposed when the college has reasonable cause to believe that the interaction of two people may pose a risk to the safety or well-being of those involved.
or others in the College community. Under the terms of such an order, both the parties are prohibited from communicating with each other. This pertains to direct contact and all forms of communication, including but not limited to email, social networking sites, phone, instant messaging, and any contact through third parties. A violation of such order may result in conduct and/or criminal charges. All parties have the option of pursuing a protective order from a court of relevant jurisdiction at all times. A no contact order may be valid pending the outcome of the investigation, the conclusion of the hearing process (if applicable), or for a time period specified by the issuer in the order.

In the handling of inquiries and complaints under this policy, the College will protect confidentiality to the extent consistent with the College’s legal obligations to take all reasonable steps to conduct an effective investigation of claims, and to protect the welfare of the College community.

Telling one’s experience to the Title IX Coordinator does not obligate the individual to report it to the police, nor does reporting it to the police obligate someone to file a complaint under this policy—these are separate processes. College process and criminal process can occur simultaneously or they can occur independently. If a victim would like to notify law enforcement, the Title IX Coordinator (or designee) can assist with that notification. The College encourages victims of sexual assault and other forms of sexual violence, dating violence, domestic violence and stalking to report those matters to the police.

Preservation of Evidence

The preservation of evidence in incidents of sexual violence is critical and particularly time-sensitive. It is important to keep records, documentation, or other types of evidence of the incident whether it is a repeated occurrence or a onetime event. An individual who has been sexually or physically assaulted should do everything possible to preserve any evidence of the incident and injuries.

A) Procedures for Informal Resolution

The College encourages informal resolution when the parties desire to resolve the situation cooperatively. Informal resolution may include an inquiry into the facts, but typically does not rise to the level of a formal and comprehensive investigation.

Informal resolution includes, but is not limited to, options such as referral to another campus office or program, mediation, separation of the parties, referral of the parties to counseling programs, conducting targeted educational and/or training programs, or other remedial measures. Situations that are resolved through informal resolution are usually subject to follow-up after a period of time to assure that resolution has been implemented effectively. Steps taken by the Title IX Coordinator or Deputy Title IX Coordinators to help the parties achieve informal resolution will be documented.

Some reports of alleged sex discrimination, sexual harassment or sexual violence may not be appropriate for informal resolution, but may require a formal investigation at the discretion of the Title IX Coordinator. Also, the Office for Civil Rights of the U.S. Department of Education has taken the position that mediation is not an appropriate mechanism for resolution in cases of alleged sexual assault.

b) Procedures for Formal Investigation

In response to reports of alleged sex discrimination or sexual misconduct in cases where the complainant does not wish to engage in informal resolution, where informal resolution is not appropriate, or in cases where attempts at informal resolution are unsuccessful, a formal investigation will be conducted. In such cases, unless a written complaint has already been submitted, the individual making the report (here termed the “Complainant”) should file a written, signed complaint containing the relevant allegations.
against a person (here termed the “Respondent”). The written complaint shall be submitted to the Title IX Coordinator or one of the Deputy Title IX Coordinators. The Title IX Coordinator and/or a Deputy Title IX Coordinator will manage this process.

The following general principles and procedures shall govern this process:

1. All persons concerned are to be treated with respect and impartiality. Procedures are to be fair, both in substance and in perception, to all persons concerned, to the various constituencies, and to the College community.

2. The Title IX Coordinator shall appoint an investigator or investigators and shall inform the complainant and the respondent of their identity and shall provide the respondent with a copy of the written complaint. The investigation and adjudication of complaints under this policy will be prompt, fair and conducted by officials who receive annual training on the issues related to domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault and stalking and how to conduct an investigation and hearing process that protects the safety of victims and promotes accountability.

3. The investigator shall conduct a thorough investigation of the allegations in the complaint with a view to (a) determining whether any conduct alleged in the complaint did occur in the manner and circumstances alleged or otherwise; and (b) to the extent that alleged misconduct did occur, determining whether the conduct constitutes a violation of this policy.

4. The investigation generally shall include interviews with the parties, interviews with other witnesses as needed, and a review of relevant documents as appropriate. Disclosure of facts to non-party witnesses shall be limited to what is reasonably necessary to conduct a fair and thorough investigation.

5. The investigator shall give both the complainant and the respondent an opportunity to be heard, to provide documentation and other evidence to the investigator, and to suggest the names of other persons who they believe may have relevant information. The complainant and the respondent will be provided equal access to relevant information and documents regarding the investigation, usually after the investigation has been completed.

6. At any time during the investigation, the investigator may recommend to the Title IX Coordinator that interim protections or remedies be provided by appropriate College officials. These protections or remedies may include (but are not limited to) separating the parties, placing limitations on contact between the parties, or making alternative workplace, student housing, transportation, extracurricular or academic arrangements where reasonable and feasible. Failure to comply with the terms of interim protections may be considered a separate violation of this policy.

7. The investigation shall be completed as promptly as possible and in most cases within 60 calendar days of the date the original complaint was received. In the event that an investigation cannot be completed within 60 calendar days, the parties shall be notified in writing.

8. After concluding the investigation, the investigator shall record his/her findings and recommendations in a written report. In making findings, the investigator shall use a “preponderance of the evidence” standard (which means it is more likely than not that a violation has occurred). The investigator’s recommendations may include, but are not limited to, educational programs, counseling/coaching, remedies for the complainant, and/or a referral to applicable campus disciplinary procedures, if and as appropriate. The written report shall be submitted to the Title IX Coordinator, who shall inform the complainant and the respondent of the completion of the investigation and will provide a copy of the investigator’s written report to each of them simultaneously.
9. The Title IX Coordinator shall evaluate the findings and recommendations of the investigator(s) and recommend appropriate action, based on that evaluation, in accordance with the provisions of this policy and other applicable College policies and procedures. The Title IX Coordinator’s evaluation and recommendations shall be submitted to the appropriate vice president(s) of the units where the complainant and respondent are located. Final decisions with respect to actions to be taken will be made by the appropriate vice presidents.

10. The Title IX Coordinator’s recommendations as well as final decisions of the appropriate vice presidents will be communicated in writing to both the complainant and the respondent simultaneously. The appropriate actions will be implemented consistent with the Corrective Actions and Disciplinary Procedures section of this policy.

11. Appropriate sanctions and corrective actions will be implemented on a case-by-case basis for violations of this policy. The College also will take appropriate steps to prevent recurrence of any violations and to remediate the effects on the complainant and others in the campus community, if and as appropriate.

12. No person shall make an allegation that he or she knows to be untrue or knowingly provide false information during the course of an investigation. Intentionally making a false complaint or giving false information is a violation of this policy and may be a basis for discipline, up to and including expulsion from school or termination from employment.

13. The College will respect the privacy of students involved in this process by sharing information only with those who need to know the information. The privacy of student information is protected by the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (“FERPA”), and nothing in this policy or process would violate FERPA.

Additional Points Relevant to Complaints of Alleged Violations of this Policy Brought Against a Student

The Office of Student Life may accommodate concerns regarding the personal safety, well-being and/or peace of mind of the Complainant, Respondent, and/or any witness(es) during a Student Conduct Hearing by providing separate facilities, by using a visual screen, and/or by permitting participation via telephone, videophone, video conferencing, videotape, audio tape, written statement, or other means, where and as determined by the Title IX Coordinator, in consultation with the Hearing Coordinator.

Both the Respondent and Complainant will be informed in writing, simultaneously, of the College's findings and judgments, including the determinations of any violations of this policy.

If found responsible, the Respondent will be subject to sanctions based on the findings and severity of the incident as deemed appropriate by the Conduct Officer, in consultation with the Title IX Coordinator. In cases where it is determined that a violation of this policy has occurred, student disciplinary action may range from (but is not limited to) coaching/counseling, verbal or written warning, suspension or expulsion from residence halls and/or dining facilities, suspension or exclusion from extracurricular or co-curricular activities, community service, suspension or expulsion from the College. All decisions concerning sanctions are made on a case-by-case basis based upon the specific findings in a particular case.

After any report of an alleged sexual assault, the Title IX Coordinator may recommend that interim protections or remedies be provided by the College. These interim protections and remedies may include (but are not limited to) separating the parties, placing limitations on contact between the parties, limiting/restricting access to campus events and/or facilities, making alternative housing, extracurricular or academic arrangements where reasonable and feasible, and/or imposing an interim suspension to ensure the safety of all students involved until the issue is resolved.

While the Complainant and the Respondent have the right to seek a review of the decision imposed by the Conduct Officer and Hearing Officer, the original decision remains in place until the Student Conduct process is completed.

As with any Student Conduct hearing for an alleged policy violation, W&J College affirms that the Complainant and the Respondent are entitled to the same opportunities to have equal unbiased support to ensure all parties are given equal opportunity to present their side of the incident.

Role of Advisors

The respondent and complainant may be assisted during hearings and related meetings under this policy by an advisor of their choice. The respondent and complainant may present witnesses and may produce other evidence for consideration by the student conduct body. The respondent and complainant are responsible for presenting evidence on their own behalf. Advisors may speak privately to their advisee, respondent or complainant, during the proceeding. Either party may request a brief recess to consult with their advisor which will be granted at the discretion of the Vice President of Student Life or designee. Advisors for the respondent and complainant may not present evidence or question witnesses.

Corrective Action and Disciplinary Procedures

1. If the respondent is a student, the College will utilize the process outlined in the Student Code of Conduct & Student Conduct Procedures. If the Respondent is an employee, the College will follow the process outlined in the Employee Handbook (for staff employees) or the process outlined in the Faculty Handbook (for faculty members).

2. Possible sanctions for students resulting from the College disciplinary process are listed above (under “Additional Points Relevant to Complaints of Alleged Violations of this Policy Brought Against a Student) and may also be found in the Student Code of Conduct. Possible corrective actions for faculty and staff range from an oral warning to termination of employment. Both the complainant and the respondent shall be informed of the outcome of the corrective action or disciplinary process.

Guests and other third parties who are found to have violated this policy will be subject to corrective action deemed appropriate by the College, which may include removal from the campus(es) and termination of any applicable contractual or other relationships with the College.

Definitions

Consent means words or actions that show an active, knowing and voluntary agreement to engage in mutually agreed-upon sexual activity. Consent cannot be gained by force, by coercion, by ignoring or acting in spite of the objections of another, or by taking advantage of the incapacitation of another, where the actor knows or reasonably should have known of such incapacitation. Intoxication is not an excuse for failure to obtain consent. Consent is also lacking when the activity in question exceeds the scope of consent previously given.

Dating Violence is any act of violence committed by a person who is or has been in a romantic or intimate relationship with the victim. The existence of such a relationship shall be determined based on the type, length, interactions and frequency of interactions between the persons involved in the relationship. Two people may be in a romantic or intimate relationship regardless of whether the relationship is sexual in nature; however, neither a casual acquaintance nor ordinary fraternization between two individuals in a business or social context would constitute a romantic or intimate relationship.

Domestic violence is knowingly, intentionally or recklessly causing bodily injury of any kind, causing fear of bodily injury of any kind, assault (sexual or not sexual), rape, sexually abusing minor children, or knowingly engaging in a repetitive conduct toward a certain person (i.e. stalking) that puts them in fear of bodily injury. These acts can take place between current or former family or household members, sexual partners or those who share biological parenthood in order to qualify as domestic violence.

Responsible Employee: A “responsible employee” for purposes of this policy includes all College employees except for the professional counselors in the Counseling Center and professional staff in the Health Center. Responsible employees have an obligation to promptly report incidents of sexual violence or other types of misconduct prohibited by this policy to the Title IX Coordinator or one of the Deputy Title IX Coordinators listed above. The report should include all relevant details about the alleged incident that a student or another person has shared with the responsible employee, including the name of the alleged perpetrator (if known), the student or other member of the campus community who experienced the alleged misconduct, others involved in the incident as well as the date, time and location of the incident. Before a student reveals this type of information to a responsible employee, the responsible employee should make every effort to ensure that the student understands the employee’s reporting obligation and the student’s option to request that the College maintain his or her confidentiality (which request would be considered by the Title IX Coordinator), and the student’s ability to share the information confidentially with certain individuals on campus (i.e., the professional counselors) or with off-campus sexual assault resource centers, advocates and health care providers.

Sex discrimination means differential treatment based on sex.

Sexual harassment includes any unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, or other visual, verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature. Sexual harassment also includes unwelcome sexual conduct when:

1. submission to such conduct is made either implicitly or explicitly a term or condition of an individual’s employment or student status in a course, program or activity; or
2. submission to or rejection of such conduct by an individual is used as the basis for employment or educational decisions affecting such individual; or
3. such conduct has the purpose or effect of interfering with an individual’s work or educational performance; or of creating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive working and/or learning environment; or of interfering with one’s ability to participate in or benefit from an educational program or activity.

Sexual Violence is a form of sexual harassment and it includes but is not limited to rape, sexual assault, sexual battery and sexual coercion (which is the act of using pressure or force to have sexual contact with someone who has already refused). It is a violation of this policy to have sexual contact with any member of the community without that person’s clear and voluntary consent, or where that person is incapable of giving consent.
Sexual Assault includes any type of sexual activity perpetrated against a person’s will, where that person does not give clear and voluntary consent or where the person is incapable of giving consent due to drug or alcohol use or due to intellectual or other disabilities.

Sexual Exploitation means taking sexual advantage of another person without consent, and includes, without limitation, causing or attempting to cause the incapacitation of another person; electronically recording, photographing, or transmitting intimate sounds or images of another person; and/or allowing third parties to observe sexual acts.

Stalking means intentionally engaging in a course of conduct, directed at a specific person, which is likely to cause a reasonable person to fear for his or her safety or the safety of others or cause that person to suffer substantial emotional distress. Examples include, but are not limited to, repeatedly following such person(s), repeatedly committing acts that alarm, cause fear, or seriously annoy such other person(s) and that serve no legitimate purpose, and repeatedly communicating by any means, including electronic means, with such person(s) in a manner likely to intimidate, annoy, or alarm him or her.

Statement on Privacy

The College recognizes and respects the sensitive nature of incidents that revolve around the issues of sexual assault and sexual harassment. The College will make every effort to protect the privacy of those involved and will comply with all applicable state and federal privacy laws concerning student and health information. Personally identifiable information regarding incidents or complaints of sexual assault or relationship violence will not be publicly released, except where required by law or court order. Personally identifiable student information is protected by the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA). Statistical crime reporting required by the Clery Act does not include personally identifiable information.

However, the College cannot guarantee absolute confidentiality when the College is obligated to disclose information to any government agency or when protecting confidentially compromises the College’s ability to protect the rights of other members within the campus community.

Education and Training

Washington & Jefferson College’s ongoing, campus wide initiative to educate all members of the college community about policies and procedures regarding sex discrimination, sexual harassment and sexual violence and about Title IX includes the dissemination of policies and procedures through email and website announcements, information provided in recruitment advertisements, and information provided in the college catalog. All incoming students, student leaders (members of Greek organizations, athletes, RAs, and LINKs) and employees are required to participate in these training programs, and all members of the college community are encouraged to participate throughout the year in ongoing campaigns and trainings focused on the prevention of sexual misconduct on campus. The Title IX Coordinator and Deputy Coordinators are appropriately trained and possess comprehensive knowledge in all areas over which they have responsibility in order to effectively carry out their responsibilities, including the College’s policies and procedures on sex discrimination and all complaints raising Title IX issues throughout the institution.

Annual Reporting

The Title IX Coordinator and Deputy Coordinators are responsible for maintaining records relating to reports, investigations and resolutions of complaints of alleged violations of this policy. Records shall be maintained in accordance with College records policies, generally for at least six years after the date of final resolution of the complaint. Records may be maintained for longer periods of time at the discretion of the Title IX Coordinator in cases where one or more of the parties have a continuing affiliation with the College. All records pertaining to threatened or pending litigation or a request for records shall be maintained in accordance with instructions from College legal counsel. Requests for information should be directed to the Title IX Coordinator.
